About PYD

PYD's mission is to prepare young people with disabilities for meaningful, self-directed lives while also helping employers build workplaces where people communicate clearly, work efficiently, and feel supported.

We believe that preparing young people is only half the equation—to truly unlock their potential, we must also prepare the systems around them. That's why we work with employers, organizations, and communities to build inclusive environments that support and grow with these young leaders.

PYD provides a pathway of services to support youth in developing both hard skills and social emotional skills. This pathway can include any of the following programs or trainings: Mentoring, Career Readiness, Youth Leadership Programming, Dinah F.B. Cohen Fellowship, and PYD's LEARN educational platform, which delivers disability inclusion training for educators, nonprofits, and corporations.

About Brunch & Build

Brunch & Build is an annual employer breakfast that brings together leaders committed to building inclusive workplaces where all young people can thrive.

The event features opportunities to network with leading employers, experience a demonstration of LEARN, PYD's new training platform, and hear from an employer panel featuring young professionals and employers who built their pathway through PYD.

This year's keynote speaker is Dani Bowman, an acclaimed entrepreneur, animator, and advocate.
